Chair Jose Wudka
Academic Senate

RE: Campus Naming Committee Request

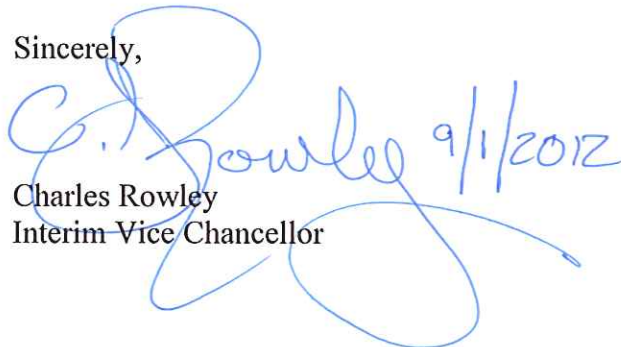

Dear Jose:

As Interim Chair of the UCR Committee on Naming Campus Properties, Programs and Facilities, I am requesting the review and approval of the following naming opportunity:

- Coil Brothers Atrium is the proposed name for the atrium in the Culver Center. This naming opportunity has been recommended by the Dean, College of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences, Stephen Cullenberg.

Please review the attached request and summary details. This proposed name requires approval by the Academic Senate before it is endorsed by the campus Naming Committee. Please note that given the size of the gift and the relatively limited scope of the naming request (the Atrium), I, like Dean Cullenberg, endorse this proposal. As you might imagine, the donor is anxious for our feedback, so I'm grateful for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Charles Rowley
Interim Vice Chancellor

Bequest Pledge Agreement Between Henry W. Coil Jr., the UC Riverside Foundation, and the University of California, Riverside

I. INTRODUCTION

Henry W. Coil Jr. ("Donor") pledges irrevocably to give the sum of $900,000 to the UC Riverside Foundation ("Foundation") at the time of his death to provide general support of the Culver Center of the Arts ("Culver Center") at the University of California, Riverside ("UCR") under the direction of the Dean of the College of Humanities, Arts, and Social Sciences ("CHASS"). The Foundation, in consultation with the Dean, is authorized to designate the funds for current use or to establish or add to an endowed fund.

In consideration of Donor's irrevocable pledge commitment, the University agrees to name the atrium of the Culver Center the Coil Brothers Atrium.

BACKGROUND

Lifetime Riverside resident, Henry W. Coil, Jr., has made a significant impact on the city of Riverside through his philanthropy, volunteerism and commitment to the arts and education. Henry is the past president of Tilden-Coil Constructors, Inc., a Riverside construction and engineering firm originally established in 1938 as the construction firm Tilden Marshall. Henry has served on the UCR Foundation Board of Trustees since 1982, serving as Chair from 1999 to 2001.

Henry has won numerous awards and has served on the boards of numerous community organizations, including the Riverside Arts Foundation, the American Red Cross, the Community Foundation, the Mission Inn Foundation, the Boy Scouts, and the Carolyn E. Wylie Center for Children, Youth and Families. He served on the Riverside City Council between 1963 and 1967.

Henry is the oldest of four siblings. His brother the late Horace Coil was a distinguished local attorney, and the late James and John all have had distinguished careers and have made notable impacts in their respective fields and professions.

Henry's interest and support of the arts date back to the beginning of the UCR/California Museum of Photography (UCR/CMP). As a founding donor, Henry's early commitment to the UCR/CMP ensured the start of what is today a world-class museum with the largest, most comprehensive holding of any photographic collection in the Western half of the United States and second largest in the nation. Henry's continued generosity over more than three decades has provided critical support to both the UCR/CMP and the Sweeney Art Gallery both of which complement the newly established Barbara and Art Culver Center of the Arts housed under the UCR/ARTSblock.

The naming of the Coil Brothers Atrium is a fitting tribute to Henry's personal contributions to the arts and UCR as well as the lives of his beloved brothers, the late Horace O. Coil, the late James L. Coil and John M. Coil of Santa Ana, California.

II. NAMING OF FACILITY

Subject to approval under the University's Policy for Naming Campus Properties, Academic and Non-academic Programs, and Facilities, the atrium of the Culver Center will be named the Coil Brothers Atrium.

This naming shall be established when:

- A. This memo has been reviewed, signed and dated by the Donor and an appropriate university official; and
- B. Donor has included provisions for this irrevocable pledge of $900,000 in his estate document, naming the UC Riverside Foundation as the irrevocable beneficiary.

The naming will be effective for the useful life of the facility. Donor understands that the University's properties and facilities plans may change in the future. In the event that the Culver Center or the atrium is demolished or repurposed, the naming described herein may cease.

III. PLEDGE FULFILLMENT

In recognition of UCR's and the Foundation's intent to rely upon this pledge, Donor agrees that this commitment is a binding and enforceable claim against him, his estate, and his successors. Donor acknowledges that the naming of the atrium of the Culver Center and the promise by UCR and the Foundation to use the amount pledged for the purposes specified shall constitute full and adequate consideration of this pledge.

- A. Donor intends to fulfill this pledge through a bequest.
- B. Donor may satisfy this pledge in part or in full during lifetime with written instruction at the time of each contribution. Any payments made toward the pledge shall reduce the amount that Donor's estate is obligated to pay.

IV. PURPOSE AND USE OF FUNDS

The funds shall be used for general support of the Culver Center under the direction of the Dean of CHASS. If it is determined to be in the best interest of the Culver Center and CHASS, the funds may be used to establish or to add to an endowed fund for the same purpose in compliance with Foundation guidelines.

Unforeseen circumstances may alter the campus plan in the future. In such an event, the Chancellor is authorized to redesignate the purpose and use of the funds as he determines to be consistent with Donor's interests and intentions to support the arts at UCR.

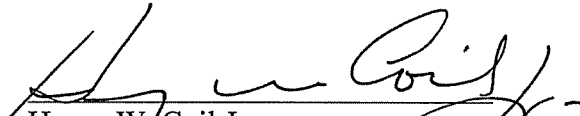

V. GIFT AND ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICE FEES

As is customary with universities and other non-profit organizations across the country, a one-time gift fee is applied to each pledge payment in order to provide essential support to UCR's advancement program. Donor understands that the fee is currently 5%. After the one-time fee has been satisfied, administrative fees will be charged in accordance with UCR policy. This fee will come from the income that is earned on the principal of the fund and will not further reduce the amount of the gift.

VI. Donor agrees that his name and this gift may be used in University and Foundation publications and websites.
