Justifications

ENR2.8.1: This is a new Regulation, intended to provide blanket approval for students to take Honors sections of disciplinary courses for credit without having either to identify those courses individually in the requirements of the College and of each of its programs or to require petitions for such approvals.

ENR3.2.1: This change provides formal approval for a College of Engineering student to take ENGL 01SC as the third quarter of English composition instead of ENGL 001C, an option created specifically by the Department of English for science and engineering majors.
