Re: [Campus Review] New Graduate Program Proposal: Revised Biophysics
Interdepartmental Graduate Program

The Committee on Library and Information Technology reviewed the [Campus Review] New Graduate Program Proposal: Biophysics Interdepartmental Graduate Program at their October 19, 2017 meeting and voted to support the program. Although it was noted in the proposal that there will be no increase in demand for new library acquisitions and no increases in computing costs, the committee believes that if this new program brings new faculty and students to campus, this will need to be re-evaluated as more computer support and dedicated lab space will be needed.
