UNIVERSITY AND FACULTY WELFARE

- A. Deferred Action for Childhood Arrival (DACA) discussion: Chair Rodriguez introduced the following individuals to give the Division an update on DACA: Ana Coria, Program Coordinator, Undocumented Student Programs; Kayleigh Anderson-Natale, Graduate Student Assembly and Ph.D. candidate, GSoE; and Jacquelyn Gonzalez, Associate Director of Governmental & Community Relations.

DACA is a federal immigration enforcement policy that was established in 2012 by President Obama, allowing some individuals without lawful immigration status who were brought to the U.S. as minors to receive a renewable, two-year permit allowing them to reside, attend higher education institutions and work in the U.S. without fear of deportation. On September 5, 2017, President Donald Trump's administration announced that it would effectively end DACA on March 5, 2018.

Ana Coria noted the office of Undocumented Student Programs (USP) is here to help the students understand the policies and procedures. She noted that DACA will not affect their financial aid in any way. The CA Dream Act allows undocumented students who meet the AB540 requirements to apply for state financial aid and institutional scholarships. USP encourages students to make an appointment with the attorney on campus at no charge. The counseling center is also available to students. Please see usp.ucr.edu for further information.

Kayleigh Anderson-Natale gave an update on graduate students and noted that most graduate students are financially strained. Fundraising for scholarships and emergency funds are important as well as donating to R'Pantry.

Jacquelyn Gonzalez gave a brief federal legislative update on DACA.

Questions/comments were then taken from the floor.

- B. Wellness Program Coordinator, Julie Chobdee, and Dr. Ann Cheney addressed the Division and delivered a power point presentation on the UCR Healthy Campus Initiative. The UCR Healthy Campus Initiative is a comprehensive approach to elevate health and well-being at UCR. UCR is committed to the health of our faculty, staff, and students and embrace an environment that both supports and encourages the health and well-being of our campus community. There are several ways faculty can get involved. For more information please reference their presentation on the Senate website senate@ucr.edu. Questions/comments were then taken from the floor. A member asked for the annual wellness budget and revenue source. Chobdee noted that the annual budget is $119,000 and the funding comes from the UC Office of the President.
- C. Barnes & Noble Regional Manager, Denise Nakakihara, addressed the Division and delivered a power point presentation with an update on textbook affordability. A copy of the power point presentation can be found on Senate website senate@ucr.edu.
- D. President of the Graduate Student Association, Shawn Ragan, addressed the Division about the implications of the recent tax bill and the devastating affects it will have on graduate students. The new plan has numerous provisions that will hurt higher education. Most harmful to graduate education is the elimination of 117B in the tax code which exempts tuition and fee remissions as taxable income; that is, tuition and fee remissions that graduate students receive will be treated as taxable income to graduate students. This also will affect recruiting grad students from out of state and those receiving fellowships. Ragan encouraged the faculty to help by lobbying Congress (both the house and the Senate) to remove these provisions.

NEW BUSINESS

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 3:46 p.m.
